

Msg 1:
Institutional Capacity

IRPF has established over 85 self-sustaining real estate associations representing over 170,000 practitioners worldwide

Msg 2:
Partners

Key to the success of the Foundation's efforts has been the strategic partnerships it has forged with a wide network of organizations and recognized experts in the real property field. These partnerships provide funding and assistance which enables the Foundation to access the top real estate and appraisal professionals who provide technical assistance in developing economies around the world.

Msg 3:
Cost Effective Programming

"IRPF has been one of the most cost effective programs I have seen within USAID. By acting as a catalyst for development, IRPF has built ownership and capacity within the institutions and markets it has supported while fielding top flight professionals in a very cost effective and responsible fashion in support of a critical component of partner countries' economic infrastructure."
-Chris Barltrop, USAID Cognizant Technical Officer to IRPF from 2007-2010

Msg 4:
Assessments

IRPF has conducted real estate market assessments in 24 countries worldwide.
